

How does this source assist you in answering the sub question?

the Europeans believed Pemulwuy looked like.

The illustration clearly depicts Pemulwuy as a well built, muscular man, depicting his physical strength as well as his resourcefulness through the use of land materials to construct a transportation device. Therefore assisting in how the Europeans believed him to be a “strong and independent character”.